Dear Friends: Although the Bidwell House and the outbuildings are temporarily closed due to COVID-19 restrictions, the grounds, gardens, woodlands, and trails are open for your enjoyment and education. This self-guided “Outside-the-House Tour” is offered to give you a taste of the many stories the property has to tell.

You can also refer to the separate Trail Map for the 4 miles of trails with interpretive exhibits on the property, and to the Native American Interpretive Trail Guide and Exhibits. The Bidwell House Museum is a non-profit educational institution and we rely on the support of our volunteers, members and friends. If you have enjoyed your time exploring the history, walking the trails, or savoring the gardens, please consider making a donation or becoming a member so we can continue to maintain this beautiful, historic place and bring the stories to life. Donation boxes are on the porch and at the parking lot kiosk, or online at www.bidwellhousemuseum.org/donate.
